SIG New Generation of Pharmaceutical Scientists

The newest SIG within BPS

- Established in 2019 a FIP platform for international exchange and networking
- Enhance cross-disciplinary activities and increase contribution to high-quality research output
- Enable effective outreach activities to pharmaceutical science communities during the formative years
- Stimulate communication, networking and collaboration with other FIP and non-FIP groups of young people

Today's Learning outcomes

Overview

1. Gain understanding of the role of pharmacists and pharmaceutical scientists within government drug regulations.
2. Learn what was required for the two speakers to reach their current role and use this to plan their own career.
3. Gain insights from the speakers on how to design/fulfil the key steps that make an early career researcher stand out.
